

Kim Kushner “Late Bloomer” Cut by Cut

Rock-A-Bye My Boy

This was written for my middle son. The only way I could get him to fall asleep as a toddler, was to put him on the rocking horse, and let him ride away until his eyes got heavy. While riding, we would sing You Are My Sunshine together. What a great guy.... independent thinker, witty, and has an unwavering thoughtfulness that I always appreciate!

Kick Back, Enjoy the Show

This was written for my eldest son. With his positive attitude, he always manages to overcome any obstacles in life. He's happy in Hawaiian shirts, lives in flip flops, has a kind and gentle soul, and a heart of gold.

The Journey

This was written for my youngest son. After graduating from college, he and I took a trip to Australia. One thing I learned on this trip was to loosen the reins and trust his judgment. He insisted on doing all the driving, and the roads were steep and curvy. I was a nervous wreck, but he did a better job than I would have, especially since the driver sat on the right and drove on the left. Yikes, I wasn't used to that, but he handled it effortlessly. Loved this journey, and will remember it always.

My Big Sis

My sister has had a tremendous impact on my life. I have asked for her advice on everything from fashion, to cooking and health. Although I tell her all the time, she may never really know how much she means to me.

Our Little Bro

Can't even imagine having a more terrific brother! He's two years younger than me, but always calls me his baby sister. My sister and I penned the lyrics for this song. We always say he's the one who got the good looks in the family. Everyone loves him. A hard worker and enjoys life to the fullest.

I'm Your Biggest Fan

This is for my dear husband. He is a soft spoken guy with a gentle soul, modest and humble, and not a big fan of being in the limelight, but I am HIS biggest fan.

Gotta Give It Up

One of my biggest passions is helping people quit smoking. This song is intended to be light and funny, but hopefully motivating. Go for it and make it happen!

The Joke

This is my favorite Brandi Carlile song. It's the only cover on my album. I love the message of staying true to yourself, staying strong and confident, and not letting anyone tell you, you can't reach your goal. You will get there and the joke will be on them.

A Little Girl

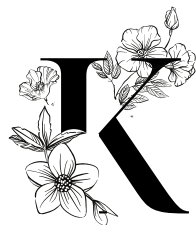

This song is about yours truly. Shy and reserved as a kid, didn't trust boys, was afraid of being taken advantage of. My mother always warned me and protected me, and although those warnings got ingrained in my brain, I learned later on, to trust... but with eyes wide open!

No More Wags

I wrote this song the day my sweet Goldie girl passed away. I was so devastated, that I had to throw my emotions into a song. I didn't know any other way to deal with my pain. I have received so many comments on this song, and every time I read them, it's as if I'm losing her all over again, but on the other hand, I'm glad the song has touched so many people. There will never be another Goldie. She was the perfect dog.

Late Bloomer

This song speaks of following your dream, regardless of your age. Some of us experience things later in life, either because we were busy raising kids, or not motivated, or didn't look for opportunities, or just became complacent. If something is important to you, you owe it to yourself to pursue it. Don't wait, because you never know what the future holds. Go for it now, and be that late bloomer. Better late than never!
